Re: Consolidated Docket Nos. D2014.11.91 and N2014.4.38

Dear Ms. Whitney:

Transmitted with this letter is the initial response of Qwest Corporation d/b/a CenturyLink QC to Data Requests PSC-008 through PSC-010 of the Montana Public Service Commission in the above referenced docket. Some of the requested data is confidential:

- PSC-008(a) Confidential Attachment B;
- PSC-010(b) Confidential Attachment A.

CenturyLink QC will file a motion for a protective order for this data and will file a supplemental response that includes these Attachments after the PSC has ruled on our motion for a protective order.

Respectfully,

DATA REQUESTS PSC-008 THROUGH PSC-010 OF THE MONTANA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

PSC-008

Regarding: Digital Loop Carrier Systems, CAF Phase II Census Blocks
Witness: Unknown

- a. Please provide the location of each digital loop carrier system in an ESRI Shape file or other GSI format, and the number of customers served by each system. Please also provide a map showing the location of each digital carrier system.

RESPONSE: PSC-008(a) Attachment A is a map showing the location of each digital loop carrier system in Montana. PSC 008(a) Confidential Attachment B.zip contains the shape files of the digital loop carrier systems. Note that 322 of the 1,162 digital loop carrier systems do not have latitude and longitude information and, therefore, could not be mapped. The attribute table included in the shape files indicates which digital loop carrier systems are not mapped. Qwest Corporation d/b/a CenturyLink QC ("CenturyLink QC") is not providing PSC-008(a) Confidential Attachment B.zip with this first response pending the PSC's decision on CenturyLink QC's motion for a protective order to protect its confidential data from public disclosure. For the number of customers served by each digital loop carrier system please see PSC-008(b) Attachment A provided in response to PSC-008(b).

RESPONDENT: Jacob Barlow

- b. How many of the digital loop carrier systems are located in census blocks eligible for CAF Phase II funding? Please provide the response in the same format that CenturyLink used to respond to PSC-004(b).

RESPONSE: The number of digital carriers systems that will be eligible for CAF Phase II funding is not yet known pending the FCC's final determination of eligible census blocks. CenturyLink anticipates the FCC releasing the final list of census blocks that will be eligible for CAF II funding in the second quarter of 2015. Under the most recent FCC determination of census blocks eligible for CAF II funding (CAM 4.1.1 model (4 Mbps down/1Mbps up), 655 of the digital carrier systems serve at least one address located in a CAF II eligible area.

RESPONDENT: Jacob Barlow

- c. Please provide a map showing the census blocks eligible for CAF Phase II funding in which digital loop carrier systems are located.

RESPONSE: PSC-008(c) Attachment A is a map showing census blocks containing locations served by digital loop carrier.

RESPONDENT: Jacob Barlow

- d. Would digital loop carriers be required to be replaced in CAF Phase II census blocks if CenturyLink QC accepts the funding? Please explain

RESPONSE: It is not a requirement to replace an existing digital carrier system when an area is upgraded as part of the CAF II process. However, there are some circumstances where replacing an existing digital carrier system might prove to be a more robust or lower cost solution than building an overlay DSLAM to work with the existing digital carrier system.

PSC-009

Regarding: Open Wire Response to PSC-002b

Witness: Ronald Smith

- a. Regarding the response to PSC-002 and the statement that open wire used as service drops is not reported in the OSPFM, please define service drop.

RESPONSE: A service drop is defined as the buried or aerial connection from the customer serving terminal, normally along the ROW over private property to the customer premise.

RESPONDENT: Ronald Smith

- b. Are there service drops in use in Montana that are open wire? Is there any method of estimating the number of open wire service drops?

RESPONSE: Yes, there are service drops in use in Montana that are open wire. The only method for identifying the number of open wire drops would be to review old records and to tap the knowledge of the network team.

RESPONDENT: Ronald Smith

- c. Is the facility from subscriber pair gain equipment such as an Anaconda carrier to the customers premise considered a service drop?

RESPONSE: No.

RESPONDENT: Ronald Smith

- d. If yes, could these service drops from analog carriers to the customers premise be open wire?

RESPONSE: Not Applicable.

RESPONDENT: Ronald Smith

- e. Please provide the estimated length of service drops in Montana from the shortest to the longest. Please provide an estimate of the average length of a service drop.

RESPONSE: CenturyLink does not have records to show the shortest and the longest service drop or the average length, but the company estimates that the lengths would range from hundreds of feet to over three miles.

RESPONDENT: Ronald Smith

PSC-010

Regarding: Open Wire Response to PSC-002b, 60% unserved, Asset Records.

Witness: Ronald Smith, Bob Brigham

- a. Please explain what types of problems are associated with open wire service drops not associated with sheathed service drops.

RESPONSE: Several types of problems may arise with an open wire service drop, including: (1) Arrester blown by lightning; (2) Nearby power inducing noise on line, and (3) Short circuit caused by debris touching the open wire.

RESPONDENT: Ronald Smith

- b. Please provided the exact geographic locations of the 50.1 miles of open wire referenced in the response to DR PS-002 in ESRI Shapefile format.

RESPONSE: PSC 010(b) Confidential Attachment A contains the detailed open wire information. Qwest Corporation d/b/a CenturyLink QC (“CenturyLink QC”) is not providing PSC-010(b) Confidential Attachment A with this response pending the PSC’s decision on CenturyLink QC’s motion for a protective order to protect its confidential data from public disclosure.

RESPONDENT: Ronald Smith

- c. Please explain in detail how census block information from the National Broadband Map is used to estimate the percentage of an exchange that is unserved. (Exhibit 5 to SDR PSC-001)

RESPONSE: CenturyLink overlaid the company’s wire centers on the NTIA data (National Broadband Map) and compared the geographic area of the wire centers where no unsubsidized competitor was present with the total geographic area of the wire center. We had to overlay our wire centers on the National Broadband Map because it identifies the presence or absence of an unsubsidized competitor by census block while CenturyLink QC accounts for construction expenditures by wire center (exchange).

RESPONDENT: Ken Buchan

- d. FCC Order No. DA 13-2101 ¶10 states as follows: “Therefore, consistent with long-standing Commission policy, we take this opportunity to restate that carriers may use their frozen high-cost support either to recover the costs of past network upgrades to extend broadband-capable networks in areas substantially unserved by an unsubsidized competitor, or to maintain and operate existing networks in such areas, or a combination of the two.” Footnote 238 of the FCC Transformation Order FCC 11-161, states in part as follows: However, we recognize that certain expenditures, such as investments in a digital subscriber line access multiplexer (DSLAM) and/or middle mile infrastructure, that benefit a geographic area unserved by an unsubsidized competitor may also benefit some locations where an unsubsidized competitor provides service. We do not intend to preclude such investments. While we expect CAF recipients to use support in areas without an unsubsidized competitor, to the extent support is used to serve any geographic area that is partially served by an unsubsidized competitor, the recipient must certify that, with respect to the frozen high-cost support dollars subject to this obligation, at least 50 percent of the locations served are in census blocks shown as unserved by an unsubsidized competitor, as shown on the National Broadband Map. For example, if a given middle mile feeder for which frozen high-cost support dollars are used serves 100 locations, and only 40 of those locations are in census blocks shown as unserved by an unsubsidized competitor on the National Broadband Map, the recipient would not be in compliance with this requirement. For purposes of determining whether this requirement is met, carriers must be prepared to provide asset records demonstrating the existence of facilities, such as a DSLAM and/or middle mile plant that serve locations in census blocks where there is no unsubsidized competitor.

Please provide the asset records as described in Footnote 208.

RESPONSE: The requested data is not readily available. Producing it would require a special study. At paragraph 11, DA 13-2101 provides: “We also clarify that the obligation to use frozen high-cost support for broadband-capable networks in areas substantially unserved by an unsubsidized competitor applies to carriers at the holding company level.” Because the FCC has not asked CenturyLink, Inc. to produce the asset records described in footnote 238 at the holding company level, CenturyLink has not expended the considerable resources necessary to provide it.
